Grillska College in Stockholm, Sweden

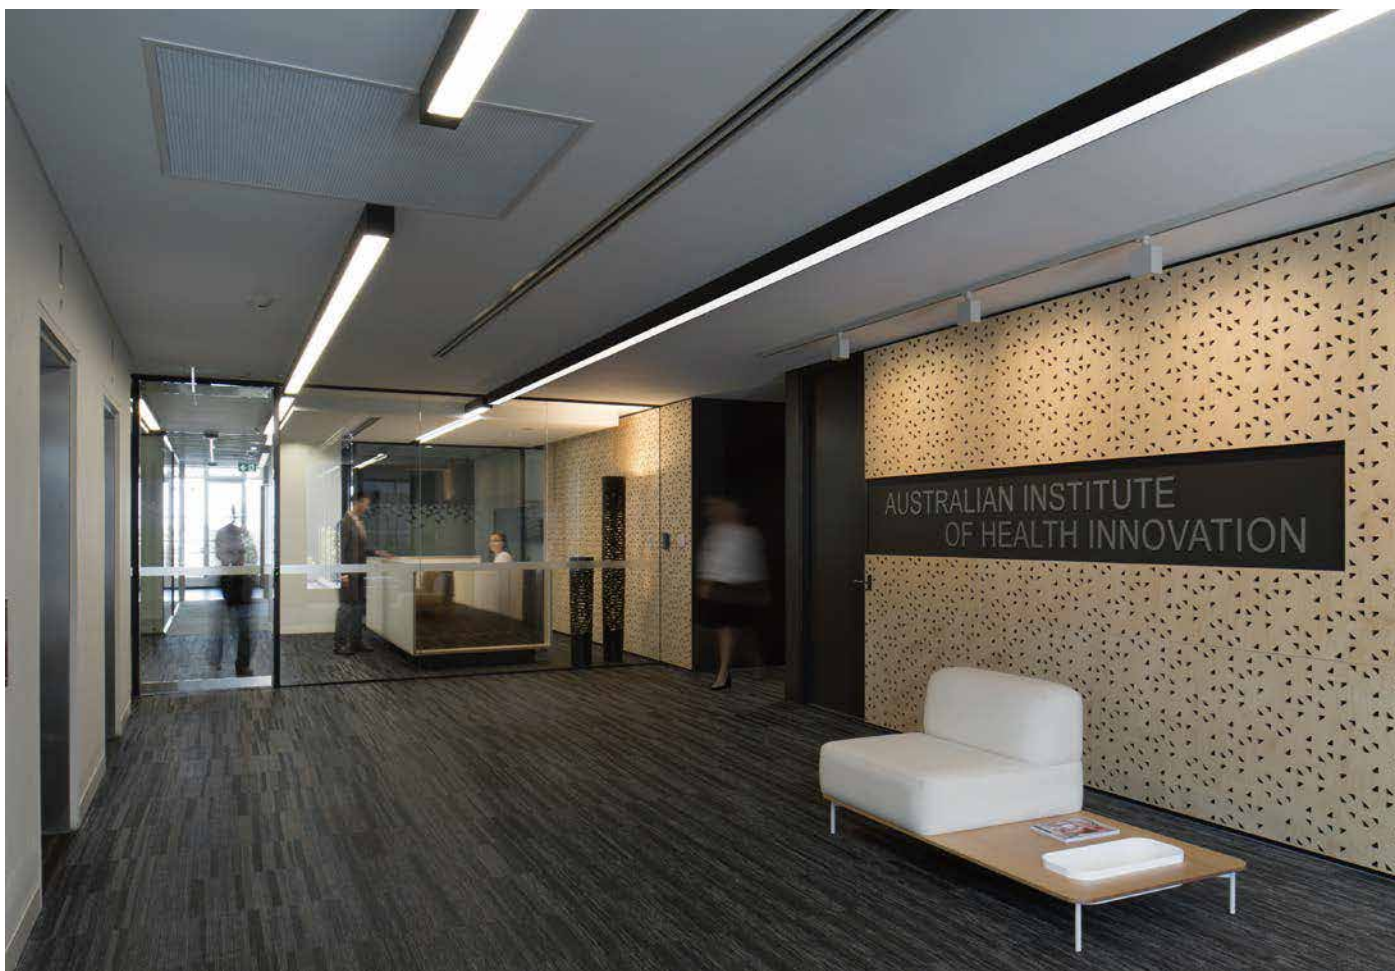

Grillska College in Stockholm, Sweden, is a special installation for Bolon. Architect office Codesign worked on a small budget for the client Stadsmissionen, a Swedish community. “We used small means to create great change”, says Peter Ullstad, architect and founder of Codesign. “Bolon has together with other companies sponsored the project and we used spare bits and odd rolls of flooring to cover thousands of square meters in a sort of unusual patchwork.”
